

MEITES RESEARCH AWARD

The Department of Physiology offers two categories of Meites Research Award.

I) pre-comp Meites Research Award: for all master and pre-comp PhD, DO/PhD, and MD/PhD students.

II) post-comp Meites Research Award: for all PhD, DO/PhD, and MD/PhD students who have successfully passed the comp exam.

Due Date: April 7th

All applications received passed the deadline will not be eligible for the award.

Eligibility:

1. Molecular, Cellular and Integrative Physiology (MCIP) PhD and Physiology Master (pre-comp category) graduate students.
2. Only students who have NOT received this award in the respective category previously. Students that have received the award in the pre-comp category can apply for the post-comp category. If you have received the award in the post-comp category previously you will not be eligible to apply again - same goes for the precomp category.

Funding: $250

Submission Guidelines:

Submit the required material as a single pdf file by e-mail to Bradley Robinson at robin454@msu.edu

1) Cover sheet that includes your name, your mentor, your current GPA, and the category pre- or post-comp Meites Research Award.

2) CV (4 page maximum).

Review Criteria: The graduate program director and the GAC members will review and select the award winners. Selected winners will be based on scholarly performance (e.g. publications, presentations, other awards).
