

MEITES TRAVEL AWARD

The Department of Physiology offers travel awards to support students training in the labs of Physiology Department faculty members.

Applications Due by 5:00 PM on:

- December 10
- March 10

 If due date falls on a Saturday or Sunday then the deadline is extended to the following Monday *****

Eligibility:

- All graduate students that are doing research in the lab of a Department of Physiology faculty member.
- Students of all levels (Pre- or Post-Comp) are eligible to apply.

Funding:

$400 per award

Up to 3 awards may be given over each calendar year. However, there is no obligation to fund awards if there aren't sufficient meritorious applications.

Application Guidelines - Compile the following into a SINGLE PDF:

- Cover Page that includes:
 - Your name
 - Your mentor's name (must be in the Department of Physiology)
 - Your Graduate Program and the year you began in that program
 - Whether you are Pre or Post-Comp Exam
 - Information about the meeting/event you want to attend (name, dates, location)
 - Explanation as to why attending this meeting is important for your training and career goals (maximum 3 sentences)
- Abstract
 - Must have been submitted but acceptance of abstract can be pending
 - Student must be the first author on the abstract to present either a poster or a talk.
- CV

Submit complete application (single pdf file) via email to Mr. Bradley Robinson (robin454@msu.edu) and Dr. Gina Leininger (leininger@msu.edu)

Review Criteria:

The Graduate Program Committee will review the applications and select the award winner(s) based on the scientific merit of the abstract and the relevance to the student's training and career goals. Awards will only be given to accepted abstracts.

The committee's goal is to award every student in a Physiology lab at least one travel fellowship during their dissertation/thesis work but this will depend on the availability of award funds and the number of submitted applications.