

MEITES RESEARCH AWARDS

There are 2 different categories for Meites Research Awards (pre- and post-comp). Please read and follow the information and instructions carefully. Only students who have NOT received this award are eligible to apply. Award selection is based on your CV, so please take writing a good CV seriously.

Instructions:

Eligibility: All Physiology graduate students who have NOT received this award previously.

Meites Categories:

I) pre-comp Meites Research Award: for all master's and pre-comp PhD, DO/PhD, and MD/PhD students.

II) post-comp Meites Research Award: for all PhD, DO/PhD, and MD/PhD students who have successfully passed the comp exam.

Application:

I) cover sheet that includes your name, your mentor, your current GPA, and the category (pre- or post-comp Meites Research Award)

II) up-to-date CV

Applications need to be sent to the chair of the graduate advisory committee (GAC), which will review and select the award winners. Please contact the Physiology Graduate Program Director if you are unsure who to send the application to or if you have additional questions

Application deadline:

April 1st, 5:00 pm, - no exemptions. All applications received passed the deadline are not eligible for the award.
