

MEITES TRAVEL AWARD

The Department of Physiology offers travel awards to support graduate students training in PSL labs.

Due Dates:

2020 December 10th

2021 March 10th

Applications received after the deadline will not be considered.

Eligibility:

1. All graduate students that are doing research in a physiology lab.
2. Students at all levels pre or post comp are eligible to apply.

Funding: $250 – Three awards available

Submission Guidelines:

Send the abstract, the name of the meeting, a max of three sentences with the explanation as to why this meeting is important to you and your CV (4 page maximum). Abstract needs to have been submitted but acceptance of abstract can be pending. Students should be first author on the abstract and should present either a poster or a talk.

All material must be submitted as a SINGLE PDF to Mrs. Jasmine Jackson E-mail: jjack578@msu.edu

Review Criteria:

Awards will only be given to accepted abstract. The graduate program director together with the GAC members will review and select the award winners based on scientific merit of the abstract. The committee's goal is to award every student at least one travel fellowship during their thesis work but this will depend on funding for fellowships and amounts of submissions by students.
